

Student (Related) Grievance Handling Policy

Section 1 - Overview

(1) The University of New England is committed to continuous service improvement based upon a culture in which people feel comfortable in submitting a grievance and confident that their issues will be addressed fairly, as promptly as possible, accurately, sensitively and without recourse where the grievance has been submitted in good faith. This commitment to a fair, efficient and effective grievance management system is championed by the Vice-Chancellor and Chief Executive Officer, the University senior executive and from all sections of the University.

(2) This policy addresses the requirements relating to grievance handling required under the Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency Act, the Educational Services for Overseas Students Act and the recommendations contained within the NSW Ombudsman Complaint Handling at Universities: Best Practice Guidelines.

Section 2 - Scope

(3) This policy applies to all UNE Representatives and Students of the University (as defined under this policy).

Section 3 - Policy

Principles

(4) The University of New England is committed to:

- a. providing opportunities to resolve grievances without the immediate need to engage outside agencies;
- b. making the resolution process as streamlined as possible and readily accessible to everyone;
- c. ensuring appropriate confidentiality is maintained;
- d. adhering to the principles of natural justice and the protection of rights for all;
- e. encouraging the resolution of grievances as close as possible to their origin;
- f. the timely solution of grievances and appeals;
- g. the availability of staff and managers to resolve issues in the first instance;
- h. ensuring that those who submit a grievance will not be subjected to any penalty providing the grievance is made with an honest belief in its merit. No University Representative or Student shall suffer any form of detriment for his/her participation in submitting, supporting or resolving a grievance;
- i. ensuring that this policy does not remove rights of redress through the NSW Ombudsman or any statutory agency; and
- j. ensuring that grievances involving alleged criminal activity are reported to the Police or other relevant authority.

(5) All University Representatives and Students have access to an effective grievance process that enables them to lodge a grievance about any aspect of the University's provision of higher education and associated services.

(6) The formal grievance process must be recorded in writing.

(7) Grievances may be submitted anonymously but, depending on their nature and the requirements of natural justice, their resolution may be limited or not possible. An anonymous grievance may be where the aggrieved person requests that his/her identity not be revealed to the responding person or does not identify him/herself when lodging a grievance.

NB. While the University Student Grievance Unit may accept anonymous grievances it cannot guarantee the anonymity of the aggrieved person because the identity of an aggrieved person can be deduced from the nature of the grievance and also because there are statutory pathways avenues (such as Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009) through which the identity of the aggrieved person(s) can be required to be revealed. Anonymous grievances may also contain insufficient information for it to be pursued. However, if the grievance suggests reasonable evidence of misconduct, error or some other significant institutional flaw the grievance will be investigated to determine whether the grievance falls within the scope of a general grievance.

(8) Any interference with the application of this policy including:

- a. falsification, distortion or misrepresentation of information before an inquiring officer or;
- b. disruption to, or interference with, the orderly conduct of an inquiry or;
- c. attempting to discourage an individual's proper participation in the application of this policy;
- d. attempting to influence the impartiality of an inquiring officer prior to or during the course of, an inquiry or;
- e. harassment or intimidation of an inquiring officer or a student or a university representative prior to, during, or after an inquiry;

may become the subject of disciplinary proceedings.

(9) This policy overrides any policy and/or practice of a business area or school in relation to the handling of student related grievances.
