

Admission Rule - Undergraduate

Section 1 - Admission

(1) All candidates for a qualification must have been formally admitted to the University before commencing to study for that qualification. The granting of advanced standing towards a University qualification for work completed elsewhere is subject to the University Policy on Advanced Standing.

Section 2 - Undergraduate Admission

Basis for Selection

(2) Selection criteria for and conditions of admission are determined from time to time by the Academic Board.

Eligibility for Selection

(3) To be eligible to be considered for selection, applicants must meet the University's English language requirements for admission irrespective of the study location or study mode and have satisfied one of the following requirements.

New South Wales Higher School Certificate Examination

(4) Taken approved courses, including an English course, of which at least 10 units must be in courses chosen from subjects listed in Group A and in Group B as specified by the New South Wales Board of Secondary School Studies for the year in which the calculation is made. At least eight units must be in courses chosen from subjects listed in Group A.

(5) In general, the basis for selection for admission for persons who have taken the New South Wales Higher School Certificate Examination in 1992 or thereafter, will be a Tertiary Entrance Rank (TER). In 1998 the TER changed to a Universities Admission Index (UAI), which will take into account both school assessments and examination marks, in their 10 best units in courses from subjects listed in Group A and in Group B except that, no more than two units of courses in Group B may be counted in determining the UAI. Other Approved Studies will not be counted towards the UAI. From 1994 a student may accumulate units over a period of five years towards a UAI.

(6) While an English course must be presented, it will be counted in determining the UAI only if it is within the candidate's best 10 units.

(21) Qualification equivalency is judged by the Academic Board Teaching and Learning Committee in consultation with the International Committee.

(22) International students under the age of 18 are ineligible for admission to UNE unless they are being cared for in Australia by a parent or suitable nominated relative.

Admission through Inter-Institution Agreements

(23) The University has a number of formal arrangements with external institutions (public and private, Australian and international) that allow admission to specific courses of study, sometimes with advanced standing. These arrangements incorporate admission and credit assessments that have been approved by Council and admission is granted according to the terms of the assessment. (Refer to the Policy on Advanced Standing.)

(24) These assessments will be subjected to regular review through the Academic Board and the admission rules and/or selection criteria may be changed subject to not disadvantaging prospective students of the University of New England who have commenced studies at the external institution.

(25) Where a formal arrangement is terminated or has lapsed, the provisions of Paragraph 20 and 21 are also automatically terminated or lapsed and admission with or without advanced standing will then be considered under other provisions of this policy.

Postgraduate Admission

(26) The rules for postgraduate admission are detailed in the respective postgraduate rules.

Records

(27) Electronic records are retained in a systematic fashion of the basis for admission in respect of each student.
